Cameron Laid Out in 1846 Named for Capt. Ewen Cameron; Described as a Place of 40 Houses on Indian River

County Judge Jeff T. Kemp in a recent letter to the magazine, County Official, reveals some interesting history about the city of Cameron.

The letter is written to correct an error in the Magazine which records that Cameron was laid out in 1840. Judge Kemp submits proof that the town was laid out in 1846.

Cameron was laid out in 1846 when Burleson county was cut off from Milam county. An act of the Legislature Approved on April 4, 1846 tells of the appointment of Commissioners for the county who were charged to locate the county seat and name it. William D. Thomson, Isaac Standifer, Winfred Baylay, J. Turnham, Daniel Monroe, Benjamin Bryant and August Sullivan were the commissioners. The memoirs of the late George B. Erath state that he surveyed the town site in April or May of 1846.

At The THEATRE

By GEO. WINCHELLE

The new week's review begins with a corking good picture on the screen of the Cameron. You can't always judge by the title although "Fifty Roads To Town" sounds interesting enough. The important thing about it is Don Ameche and Ann Sothern. They team up in this laugh spiced romance with danger. Snow bound in a cabin, and how romatic. You'll like this picture. I advise you to see it Thursday and Friday.

Lionel Barrymore who thrilled movie goers here in a score of great pictures comes to the screen of the Cameron Theatre Saturday in "A Family Affair." Can you ever forget him in the "Voice of Bugle Ann" and many other great roles? This picture is the story of typical small town American family and who could do it better than Barrymore, Mickey Rooney and Cecelia Parker. With Barrymore are many who played with him in "Ah, Wilderness." He plays the part of a county judge and troubles beset his family. You can guess what a job he does in this great role.

"Just because I am your Butler don't think you can call me your personal property." Yes, you've guessed it. Nobody but Jean Harlow could play it like she does in "Per-

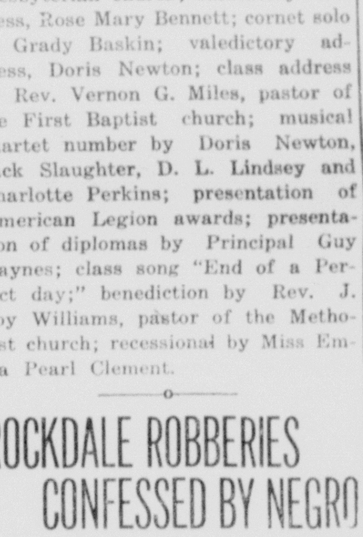
Old Pampa Neighbor Writes Tribute to C. V. Terrell of Railroad Commission



C. V. TERRELL

Judge C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, has a right to a puff of pride when he reads this item . . .It's by Archer Fullingham and appeared in the Pampa Daily News of May 7:

Last night, Pampans who had not seen C. V. Terrell, chairman of the State Railroad commission in several years, were gladly surprised by his appearance.

There was a time a few years ago when his health was none to good, but the judge he sat on the bench down at Decatur) has built up his health until now he looks younger and better than he has for ten years. It seems that age has passed him by. In fact, Vernon Terrell looks the same and acts the same as he did when this writer sat behind Carl Schulkey in the fourth grade down at Decatur a lang time ago . . . The judge being a calm deliberate man with a sense of humor, walks with dignity but last night he set a pace for spry Jack Dunn as they moved thru hotel lobbies. Vernon Terrell is the sort of man who makes what are known as "old friends" every year of his life and he never loses them, and today all those friends he has made here during the years are welcoming him back to Pampa. He is not a backslapper, nor is he fond of loud talking nor does he make rash statements, and rash promises, but wherever he is his friends quietly flock around him rejoicing in his saftey, strength and his natural goodness of character.

Jack B. Freeman Found Dead Here

The body of Jack Freeman, 70, was dragged from the water in Little River, about 150 yards down the river from the pump station, one mile east of Cameron, Thursday morning.

A verdict of suicide was reindered by Justice of Peace Wamock Brashear who with Sheriff Max Kennedy and Jake Richards recovered the body with a Pole from this lonely spot in the river bottom. The feet of the dead man was stuck in the mud. He was face down, with only his back showing out of the water. A bottle, about one and a half inches tall with a small amount of strychnine sulphate and a bottle with orange soda water was found on the bank. Indications were that Freeman had rolled from the bank into the river.

Dead Since Wednesday

Justice of Peace Brashear said Freeman had been dead since the early part of Wednesday night.

Bob Hayes reported to officers that he had assisted Mr. Freeman through a fence about 300 yards north-west of the pump station, Wednesday night about 7 o'clock.

Mr. Freeman since the death of his brother, J. K. Freeman, lawyer and real estate and loan dealer here on February 23, had been making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Jake Richards. After the finding of the body Mr. Richards said that Mr. Freeman had threatened to destroy himself on May 6th. On Wednesday after receiving his old age pension check, he paid Mrs. Richards his room and board up to Sunday and told her that he was going to the river at the pump station. Mr. and Mrs. Richards upon finding that Mr. Freeman had not returned to his room for the night, made a report to officers, who found him about 7 o'clock Thursday morning.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Ed McCall, Yarrellton; Mrs. Annie F. Taylor, Laredo; and one brother, T. H. Freeman, Rosebud.

Funeral services were conducted from the residence of T. H. Freeman, a brother, at Rosebud, Friday morning. Rev. J. Coy Williams, pastor of the Cameron Methodist church, officiated and was assisted by Rev. W. A. Craven. Interment was made in the Rosebud city cemetery, with the Leland Green Funeral Home directing arrangements.

Mr. Freeman was born and reared in Tupelo, Mississippi. In his earlier years, he was an agent for the Southern Pacific railroad in Corpus Christi, and later a traveling auditor out of New Orleans for the Illinois Central. During the war he received a railroad appointment from the government. At one time, he was also employed as a saleman.

mind how these members, over a period of three years have so unselfishly worked for the progress of Athletics, our Schools and our City; that during their service as members of the Council unprecedented progress has been made and we realize that to them goes in major part the commendation of our citizens, for the splendid work done and the results obtained. Be it further,

Resolved, that we know these men to be worthy of the trust implied by their appointment to the council in the beginning; that at no time have they lacked the quality of leadership or the desire to withhold any measure of devotion to the best interest of our School and our Athletic Department; that in the loss to the Council occasioned by their dismissal we realize we have an almost insurmountable burden and in the days to come their active leadership, courage, energy and ability to get the job done, will be an inspiration to us who remain although we cannot look to the future without fear that the effectiveness of our Council has been impaired. Be it futher,

Resolved, that a copy of these Resolutions be spread on record in the minutes of the Council, a copy given to each of the retiring members and a copy submitted for publication.

Negro Slain

Peace Womack Brashear. Mr. Camp said the wounded negro made a statement to the effect that he did not know who shot him or why he was shot.

Seaton Confesses

Seaton confessed to officers that the negro tried to borrow money from him and when he told the negro he didn't have it, the negro cursed him. "When I went and got the gun I intended to shoot the negro," Seaton was quoted as saying.

Officers said that Seaton borrowed a sawed-off shot gun from Otto Gebhardt, who was sitting under a shed near the gin. Seaton then followed the negro into a seed house, where he and two other negroes were shooting dice. "I called to McCoy and as he turned around I shot him," Seaton said to District Attorney Camp.

Shot In Back

The negro was shot one time in the back toward the right shoulder. He died in a local hospital at 6 a. m. Monday.

Seaton and the negro were both employed on the Batte farms. Seaton is a married man and has one child.

The gun used in the shooting was borrowed from Mr. Batte by Otto Gebhardt to take out on the Batte farm to shoot crows, officers said.

Cameron

of Dr. Thrall is that he writes the town was named for John Cameron. The city was named for Captain Ewen Cameron. Says Judge Kemp: "It was named for the patriot Captain Ewen Cameron of the Mier expedition who was killed by the Mexicans after he had drawn a white bean."

Judge Kemp submits for publication a clipping from the Democratic Telegraph and Texas Register of date March 1, 1849 published in Houston which reads as follows:

"New Town of Cameron—The county seat of Milam County, which has been named Cameron, in honor of the gallant ranger who was so distinguished at the battle of the Salado and on the Mier Expedition, is improving rapidly. It is situated in a beautiful and fertile valley in Indian or Little River, about thirty miles west of Nashville, and contains about 40 houses. Extensive farms are opening in all directions about it. Large number of emigrants from the Red River counties and the Upper Trinity are settling in the neighborhood."

Strength During MIDDLE LIFE

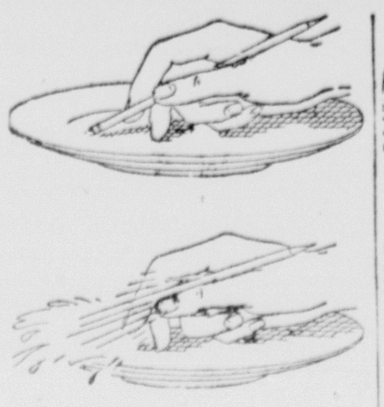
Strength is extra-important for women going through the change of life. Then the body needs the very best nourishment to fortify it against the changes that are taking place. In such cases, Cardui has proved helpful to many women. It increases the appetite and aids digestion, favoring more complete transformation of food into living tissue, resulting in improved nutrition and building up and strengthening of the whole system.

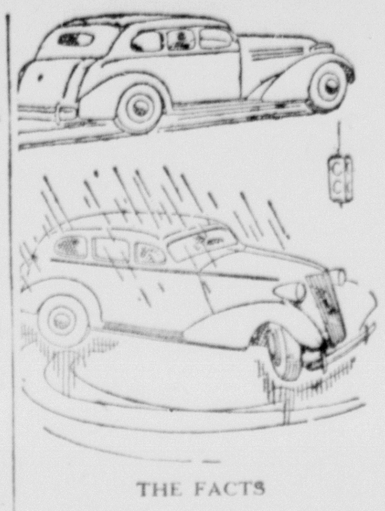
FUN with FACTS



THE FUN

Place a clean, dry saucer or platter upon a table. Take a pencil, eraser end down, and hold it against the platter at an angle of about 45 degrees. Push firmly in an endeavor to move the pencil across the platter. You will find that the platter moves and may even push the table covering or table itself.

Place a small quantity of water in the platter and repeat. You will find the pencil eraser now moves across the platter with very little effort. We might say that it "skids" across the platter. There will be no tendency to move the dish.



THE FACTS

On a clean, dry pavement, your tires exert a very strong push. It is this push which moves your car forward. When the pavement is wet, your tires have a tendency to repeat the eraser and wet platter performance. This may prove to be dangerous if you try to stop quickly or change your direction suddenly. Other conditions which tend to cause similar results are wet leaves, car tracks, oil, ice and snow. Under such circumstances, whenever you feel impatient, just remember the wet eraser.

Dr. Thomas R. Lutner and family of Lawton, Oklahoma, attended the funeral of Mrs. W. G. Allen in Cameron Monday.

Miss Alice Strzinek of Austin spent the week end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Strzinek in Cameron.

HELL'S TO PAY

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only.)

* * *

Pardon this partial profanity. I have thought of many names I might use, but none just exactly describes what I want to say like this expression. But it looks to me like we either don't know where we are going or we see the storm rising which we are not willing to admit and we are planning how to flee from the wrath to come.

It is at least amusing if not pitiful to see how the people accept vicious propoganda in the face of known facts. For instance, the big daily papers one day brag about how we are on the road to recovery and the next day we get another story that dark clouds are rising and that we are threatened with another depression. One day the columns of the noted writers tell how stocks and bonds are on the road to permanent values, and the next day brother Forbes and Professor Haney tell us why the bottom had dropped out of the stock market because the business men have lost confidence in what they threaten to do in Washington.

Then in the next two or three days these same writers who set themselves up as great and wonderful economists come back with some more dope, telling us how things have cleared up in Washington and that the President is sure to run things as he wants to. I would be willing to buy Brother Forbes and Professor Haney a new hat if they would stick to one idea for just one week instead of blowing hot and cold so often.

One day the papers carry the news that all the strike troubles have been settled everywhere, and the next day in so many words they say that hell's to pay and that all the mechanics in the Detroit and Pittsburg situation have struck again and 200,000 have walked out. If these writers and papers don't know anything for sure they ought not to keep on talking so wise about something they don't appear to know anything about.

* * *

They seem to reason from a false premise without a knowledge of the facts. For instance, they tell us that prosperity is here because hogs have gone up to 11 cents a pound and corn a dollar and a half a bushel. But they either don't know or they ignorantly fail to tell us that nobody has any hogs or corn to sell anybody and will not have any until next fall at the earliest.

* * *

Last week the papers carried the columns of the Bureau of Public Opinion that prosperity was a sure thing and in last Sunday's paper the same people carried the statement that there is just as many unemployed people on the relief rolls as there was three years ago.

* * *

For over two years the papers have been handing out these bitter and sweet stories and none of their predicitons have stood for longer than a week at a time.

In my opinion all that anybody knows for sure is that they don't know anything for sure. Prosperity may be just around the corner but there is yet no tangible evidence of any permanent relief. Revolution may be in the making, but thank God so far as this country is concerned nobody has volunteered to carry a gun or enlist for any contest. The danger is in so much idle talk based on no dependable fact. There is more danger in this misconception or rather deception than there is in obtaining a true story of conditions.

Let us hope that this selfish desire to sell printers ink and space at so much per will not much longer deceive anybody and that vicious propaganda will no longer deceive.

If the people should perchance discover their imposition then really and truly it will be "Hell's to Pay."

In many respects Congress runs after the fashion of a model 'T' Ford. It will limp along for a while, then it will take a burst of speed and just when you think it is going over the hill, it will come to a dead stop. For several weeks there was little legislative progress, but after spending the entire day, Monday, listening to an attack on Adolph Hitler and the present German Government by Represetative Sirovich along with a long drawn out discussion of dirigibles, the House got down to real work and on Tuesday and Wednesday considered the CCC bill. The original bill would have made the CCC a permanent agency of the government but an amendment by Representative Lanham of Texas was adopted which extended its life for only two years. I voted for the amendment because, while I consider the CCC as one of the most useful of the alphabetical agencies, I know that the government cannot undertake to permanently care for this group of young men. Already the number of applications for places in these camps has fallen off very greatly. But there is still a substantial need. As long as this condition exists we must continue the work. I hope that within two years the need may have passed—at least in large measure. If it has not, the crops can be continued but once a governmental agency is made permanent, the expense is never reduced.

The bill as finally passed privides for a maximum of 315,000 enrollees. This is a reduction of approximately 50,000 from the present setup or approximately 14 per cent and the expenses will be reduced by about that percentage. I felt that the bill should provide for a continuation of the present number of camps with a smaller enrollment in each camp but this amendment was defeated thereby allowing the creation of larger companies and a smaller number of camps. I am afraid that this bill will result in less useful work over the country. As finally passed the bill makes an appropriation of $300,000,000 or approximately $1,000 per boy per year. Of this, the boys are to receive a direct monthly salary of $30 plus a 10 per cent differential for so-called leaders in the corps and provides that at least ten hours per week be devoted to vocational and other education.

* * *

On Thursday the House commenced work on the Appropriation Bill for the Department of Interior. We worked long and diligently until last night when the House seemed to suddenly decided that it did'nt want to work any longer. After an acrimonious debate it adjourned over to Monday with the bill still unfinished although the amendments adopted had already cut a number of large appropriations out of the bill. This is the bill that containes the appropriations for the Indian Bureau and for all of the Western Irrigation Projects on government land and while it certainly provides for many highly desirable projects it also seems to me to contain appropriations for many unnecessary expenditures.

I know that our people are wanting to know why the old age pension has not been paid. I find that the money for the Federal Government's contribution was provided for in the so called Independent Offices Appropriation Bill which passed the House of February 3rd, 1937, and passed the Senate on February 17th. There are some rather inconsequential differences between the two Houses but the conference committee that has the bill in charge seems to be simply waiting for all of its members to get together. Senator Glass is a member and he is in bad health and his wife is very ill. They are at their home and members of the Committee tell me that the Committee has been waiting for him to get back to Washington before they try to take final action. Until they act this bill can not become law and the money for these pensions can not be paid. This affects all other States just as it affects Texas but none of the old members here seem to get excited about it. In fact some of the members of the Committee don't seem to know that their delay is working a hardship on the old people at all. Personally, I appreciate the desire of the Committee to show every courtesy to Senator Glass but I think that it is carrying Congressional Courtesy altogether too far when it is allowed to stand between millions of our helpless citizens and their only means of a livelihood. I have personally gone to members of the Committee and to the leaders of the House in an effort to try to work out some method of expediting payments but a body as large as this Congress gets in motion very slowly and it acts under rules as technical and inflexible as those of the Courts. However, I hope to get some more members interested and induce those in authority to act in the next few days.

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, rundown condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUI, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated.

Cardui, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.
